

When women count ...stuff happens

6 – 15 March 2015

With this simple exhibition we are inaugurating our 'mini money museum' as a gesture of solidarity with Women of the World.

The way modern economic life is accounted for is often such a 'guy' thing, that it is easy to overlook the role women have played and continue to play in getting us to look at economic life in a more inclusive, caring and intuitive way.

The exhibition comprises an overall review of the influence of New Zealand campaigner, Marilyn Waring, combined with a range of random vignettes, each one adding its own colour to the overall theme.
